

PRESS RELEASE

Garreco Expands Dental Laboratory Business with the Acquisition of Pemaco

Heber Springs, Arkansas (September 7, 2018) – Garreco is excited to announce the acquisition of Pemaco Inc., a St. Louis-based manufacturer of dental gypsum, waxes and ultrasonic cleaner products for the dental laboratory. Garreco will continue to manufacture the same high quality Pemaco products that customers have come to love.

“Pemaco’s reputation for providing high quality products with excellent customer service at reasonable prices aligns well with our platform,” said Garreco CEO, Bob O’Neal. “Pemaco customers can expect very little change with the exception of enhanced consistency of product specifications and characteristics, easier to handle boxes and improved label design. Customers will continue to experience extraordinary customer service and timely delivery of product.”

This acquisition will also provide dealers and lab technicians access to the entire Garreco line of dental products including acrylics, abrasives, and rotary, and will reinforce Garreco’s position as a leading manufacturer of gypsum and dental laboratory supplies.

About Garreco, LLC

Garreco is one of the leading United States manufacturers of dental gypsum and has been providing quality dental laboratory products for 30 years. The company manufactures a complete line of ADA/ISO Standard dental gypsums and plasters used by dentists and laboratory technicians for model making and casting to create dental restorations in the mouth. Garreco also offers a full line of abrasives, dental acrylics, silicones, and dental laboratory supplies at their facility in Heber Springs, Arkansas. In addition to its dental offerings, Garreco produces products for the industries of aerospace, jewelry casting, forensics, taxidermy, special effects, and hobby. Not only does Garreco provide a wide range of quality products under their own brand but they also manufacture private-labeled products and offer custom formulation, color, set times, and packaging. To learn more about the company, please visit Garreco.com.

Point of Contact:

Lauren Acklin
Marketing, Garreco, LLC
Telephone: 800-334-1443 ext. 809
Email: lauren@garreco.com

###